

THE PROGRAM

The Municipal Law Institute of the League of California Cities and UC Hastings Center for State and Local Government Law present:

The Supreme Court Giveth, Will the People Taketh Away? Kelo, San Remo, Lingle and Beyond

Last year's trilogy of takings decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court signaled a new era in this critical area of law. Now, California faces a November ballot measure, Proposition 90, which is riding the nationwide reaction to Kelo v. New London, and which has implications well beyond the issue of eminent domain.

On Wednesday, September 6, 2006, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the University of San Diego School of Law, the tenth annual "Cities on the Cutting Edge" conference will examine the consequences of the Court's decisions, as well as the legislative and initiative responses, and what they mean for California's cities and counties. Co-sponsored by the Municipal Law Institute of the City Attorneys Department and the Center for State and Local Government Law at UC Hastings College of the Law, this conference promises an in-depth look at the past, present, and future of takings law.

The University of San Diego School of Law is hosting this year's program.

Wednesday, September 6, 2006, 1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
(sign in at 12:30 p.m.)

OUR SPEAKERS

A PRIMER ON THE STATE OF TAKINGS LAW

Nationally known scholar and constitutional law expert Julia Mahoney, David H. Ibbeken Research Professor, University of Virginia School of Law and author of the article Kelo's Legacy: Eminent Domain and the Future of Property Rights will discuss the state of takings law after the Supreme Court's takings trilogy.

THE DEBATE

ADVOCATES SQUARE OFF

Andrew Schwartz, of counsel with San Francisco's Shute, Mihaly & Weinberger, served in the San Francisco City Attorney's Office for over 22 years. He was the lead attorney in San Remo v. City and County of San Francisco, and prepared amicus briefs in Lingle v. Chevron and Kelo v. City of New London. He co-founded the Community Land Use Project of the Institute for Local Self Government.

Eric Grant, formerly with the Pacific Legal Foundation, was counsel of record in the Supreme Court takings case Palazollo v. Rhode Island. His extensive litigation experience includes having recently argued Bighorn-Desert View Water Agency v. Verjil in front of the California Supreme Court. Mr. Grant clerked for Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Berger and Justice Clarence Thomas. Mr. Grant currently practices in Sacramento.
